IDENTIFYING FAMILY RELATIONSHIPS TO RULERS IN THE MIDDLE EAST

RULING FAMILIES

Mapping the family relationships of individuals with ruling families of the Middle East can be a challenge. Our ruling families search combs our database to identify and verify whether an individual is connected to a ruler in the region by blood line or by marriage.

Our data is acquired from official sources and includes information on 11 ruling families in Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the UAE. Our database includes full name, gender, nationality and family ties for ruling family members.

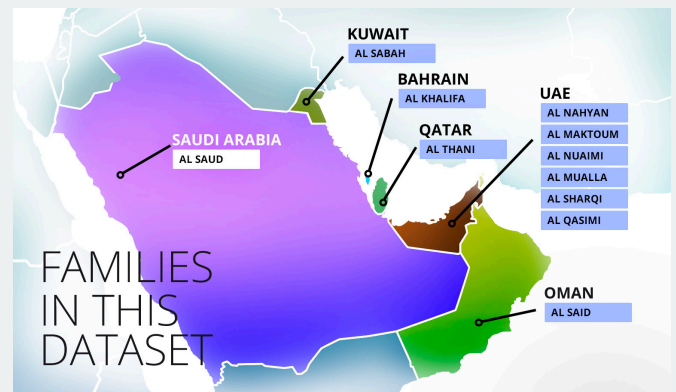

If a person is connected, we provide insight into how many degrees of separation there are and the nature of those links (up to 14) in a tabular form. We show the most direct route to the ruler, giving the names of each relation and the nature of their family connection.

Inform your business decisions with unique insight into a person's connections and their proximity to power and influence.
